Christina “CK” Kerley

| Powerhouse Speaker | Corporate Trainer | University Educator |

With 25 years of experience delivering engaging and educational tech keynotes and trainings for Fortune 500s, Christina Kerley—known simply as “CK”—remains at the forefront of her field. Renowned for her boundless energy and relentless reinvention, CK is currently focused on: Artificial Intelligence (AI); The Tech Megatrends; The AI Reskilling Revolution; The Future Of Work . . . and whatever’s coming next.

CK captivates (and keeps!) the imagination of her audiences. She’s headlined at scores of industry leaders—and trained thousands of executives—at companies ranging Verizon, Microsoft, Amazon, Cisco, Johnson & Johnson, Nestle, Frost & Sullivan, ADP, Best Buy, Bissell, TEDx, The United Nations, The Ad Council, the ANA, the IAB, and more.

For over a decade CK has been a highly popular faculty member at Rutgers Business School for Executive Education. Additionally, she has guest lectured at Stanford, Cornell, Vanderbilt, Carnegie Mellon, Northwestern, and USF.

While CK deserves acclaim for her charismatic personality and humor, it’s important to recognize her exceptionalism. Her repertoire—a catalog spanning 15+ speech topics across 10+ technologies—gives CK a perspective that few speakers can rival.

But what truly sets CK apart is her passion for reinvention. Throughout three decades she has evolved and pivoted from: smartphones to smart things; apps to AIs; big media to social media; Internets to “Outernets;” devices to data; Web 2 to Web 3; and wearable to spatial computing.

A creature of two spectacular contrasts, CK built her career in fast-paced NYC and relocated to sun-soaked SoCal in 2020 (and travels between coasts quarterly). Always on-trend, ahead of the curve, and in pursuit of the next BIG thing, learn more at: allthingsCK.com
